Mrs. Wylle is the wife of T. A. Wylle, Superintendent of the Greenwood Lake Ice Company of New Jersey, and lived with her nusband and twelvey-gar-old son in the Myra litery flats in Pavonia avenue.

Soon after she and Dr. Holcombe went away word was received that a party answering to the description of the couple had arrived at Fanama, and had taken the steamer to San Francisco. Mrs. Holcombe started over land for San Francisco, where she arrived several days ago, and was on the dock when the steamer arrived.

When Dr. Holcombe found that his wife was bent upon making him discorge some of his property he ocened negotiations with her through her counsel. He agreed to turn over to his wife part of his real estate in Jersey City and Minneapolis on condition that she should not prosecute him. This reposition is was accepted by Mrs. Holcombe, and papers were algred last night to this effect.
